MICHELLE COHEN

At a time when the security of online data is at the forefront of corporate legal concerns, Michelle Cohen stands out as one of the leading authorities in data privacy, representing companies at the intersection of business and the internet. When clients find themselves facing enforcement matters before the FTC, FCC, or state agencies, Michelle's deep knowledge and strong footing in the privacy community enable her to resolve issues in the most expedient manner possible. For clients whose initiatives involve online promotions, social media and gamification, Michelle provides legal counsel on compliance and regulatory issues in the midst of a constantly changing legal landscape. Additionally, Michelle has over 20 years' experience defending individual and class actions in the consumer protection context, including dozens of Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA) cases. These actions include matters in state and federal courts, in arbitrations and mediations. Ifrah Law is a leading firm for internet gaming companies, and Michelle advises the largest publicly traded online gaming and eSports companies on consumer protection, privacy, and marketing matters. Michelle's client relationships include large financial services providers, a digital health and wellness company, and a leading conferencing and collaboration provider.

JOE MANSON

Joseph L. Manson III is the Principal of the Law Offices of Joseph L. Manson III, which was started in April 2012. Prior to that time, Mr. Manson was a shareholder in Baker Hostetler LLP for eight years and a shareholder in DLA Piper for two years. Mr. Manson spent most of his legal career at Verner, Lipfert, Bernhard, McPherson and Hand, where he was a partner and co-chairman of the firm's Executive Committee. Mr. Manson has served on the board of directors of a public airline company, private companies, charities and educational institutions.

Mr. Manson's firm is a litigation boutique that represents plaintiffs and defendants in state and federal trial and appellate courts, as well as in national and international arbitrations. His firm brings a common sense approach to litigation; litigation costs are balanced with other alternative dispute procedures. Mr. Manson has resolved complex disputes in Iran, Singapore, The Philippines, Thailand and other countries using the extensive government relations background he developed over his forty years of practice. The firm is currently trying cases in New York, New Jersey, Florida and Virginia.
